Otis Property on Cliff Street Sold.

Francis D. Donohue has sold for Mrs. Mary G. Otis her property located on the corner of Cliff and Oak streets. It is a two-apartment house, with all improvements. The lot is 50x140 feet deep. There is a garage on the lot. This property is located across the street from the Wilbur property, which was also sold a few days ago by the same agency.

BREED THEATRE.

Billie Burke in Let's Get a Divorce, an Adaptation of the Celebrated Play, Divorçons, by Victorien Sardou. Feature Today.

Among the players supporting Billie Burke in her latest Paramount photo comedy, Let's Get a Divorce, which is based upon Sardou's celebrated play, Divorçons, are many screen players of prominence. These include John Miller, Emma Neebe, Armand Kalise, Helen Tracy, nearly all of whom have been in other successes in which Miss Burke has appeared. Let's Get a Divorce is a delightful comedy filled with thrilling situations, rapid fire dramatic action and the theme is one of the most convincing heart appeal. The scenes are laid in and about a convent in southern France. Many handsome gowns are worn in this production. Let's Get a Divorce is the feature at the Breed theatre today. Other pictures on the bill include the 15th chapter of The Eagle's Eye and the Hearst-Pathe news.

AUDITORIUM.

Theda Bara has had more publicity than any other woman on the screen today. And that is because she is news. When hundreds of thousands of motion picture viewers are applauding her photographs throughout the world, the newspapers and the magazines naturally tell all they can about her, because the editors know such stories are of interest to their readers. Her photographs are in thousands of homes.

Oh, for a satisfactory substitute for that much overworked and different "Let's Get a Divorce" and we want to express it differently and don't know how—Harriette Underhill in the New York Tribune.

See her today at the Auditorium theatre in a Pool There Was, the picture that made her famous.

NORWICH TOWN

Rev. George H. Ewing, at Sheltering Arms Service, Pleads For More Wonder and Awe in Contemplating God's Works—Miss Mary Dowdall Drowned at Deep River.

Rev. G. H. Ewing, pastor of the First Congregational church, gave the Sunday afternoon address at the Sheltering Arms, taking for the text, And all wondered at the gracious words that proceeded out of his mouth. Wonder should be a part of the Christian life, he began. Moses listened with all his heart to God's message at the burning bush. Elijah listened to hear what God had to say. Isaiah heard and responded to the voice of God. There was wonder and awe in the hearts of those men of old.

At the Transfiguration the eternal words of Jesus were listened to with wonder by those with Him on the mount. Jesus made that same impression wherever He went. People were melted by God's message as given by His Son. The early Christians gave earnest heed as Christ's words were read to them. How is it now? Should we not listen with more reverence to God's word? There is too little room for awe and wonder and admiration among the many marvels of today.

There is something lost out of our Christian lives if wonder and awe are not awakened by the word and message of God. The heavens declare the glory of God, says the Psalmist. A little child has the attitude of wonder. Why cannot the catch that spirit? Wonder is a delightful comedy filled with thrilling situations, rapid fire dramatic action and the theme is one of the most convincing heart appeal.

The scenes are laid in and about a convent in southern France. Many handsome gowns are worn in this production. Let's Get a Divorce is the feature at the Breed theatre today. Other pictures on the bill include the 15th chapter of The Eagle's Eye and the Hearst-Pathe news.

H. L. Yerrington accompanied on the piano for the hymns sung, which included, Love Divine and More Love to Thee O Christ; Miss Ruth L. Potter gave in fine voice the solo, Like as a Father Pitieth His Children.

The Press has for some time advocated the draft of labor for essentials as well as the draft of men for fighting. The government is coming mighty close to this by the appointment of an estate board for the allocation of labor. A local board will be established in each town also. The duties of these boards will be to move labor about so that the supply to essentials will be kept up. This is a step in the right direction, and will insure the proper support of our boys in the trenches.—Bristol Press.
